Backyard design garners international recognition

The steep terrain at Bill Temiz's two-acre Saddle River estate presented a challenge to Cipriano Landscape Design's team. The question was how to accommodate Temiz's desire for a luxurious hardscape and pool when there were dramatic elevation changes all the way from the street to the rear property line.

The design team took a collaborative approach, an obviously successful one as the Association of Pool & Spa Professionals awarded the completed design with its Silver International Award of Excellence.

When Temiz was notified that his home had received an international honor, he thanked the team of companies that worked on the project. "We couldn't be more pleased with the outcome of our project and having our property recognized internationally is just an added bonus," said Temiz.

He pointed to the smooth relationship between the custom homebuilder, George Kevo of Kevo Development Corp., and Cipriano Landscape Design, which specializes in custom pools and landscapes, which, Temiz said, made all the difference. "We are fortunate Mr. Kevo had the foresight to involve us in the planning very early on in the process," says Chris Cipriano, president of the landscape design company. "There were several major changes that had to occur in the original site design. If they had taken place

Bill Temiz's desire for a luxurious hardscape and pool in his backyard, despite the challenge of a dramatic elevation change, was more than satisfied with the plans developed by Cipriano Landscape Design. The Association of Pool & Spa Professionals recently awarded Cipriano's with a Silver International Award of Excellence for its work on the Temiz property.
