

STONE LOVE With cascading falls and terraced pools of Pennsylvania sandstone dominating the scene, flowering plants including echinacea and knockout roses making for beautiful accents, and groundcover patches of lysimachus scattered throughout, this Saddle River property, designed by Cipriano Landscape Design, is a feast for the senses.

Backyard Bliss

A close look at landscaping trends in Bergen

BY ROBIN DEICICCO

Gone are the days when homeowners would ask their landscapers to plant flowerbeds and vegetable gardens in their back yards. Today, local residents are requesting a bit more than rose gardens and lily pads for their outdoor property. In fact, they're asking for items that are usually found in kitchens and family rooms. ➤